METHOD...clean,
contemporary aesthetics

Wolfgang C.R. Mezger, the designer of Palette and Radius Lounge Series, has now created his third generation
of modular lounge seating...Method.
This Collection encompasses minimal design elements that merge to support various configurations, functions, and aesthetic design statements for a variety of environments.

The shining star of this design is the polished aluminum leg. They seem to disappear under the pallets and add a prominent aesthetic.

Throughout this brochure you will find illustrated the different “looks” that Method can offer.
For each setting the material for the pallet is shown. There are six pallet colors offered as standard.
Many have been created to support
the sophisticated design Method represents. Custom veneers and finishes may also be specified,
please contact Davis.

METHOD...a corner on design

Pallet units are available in two, three, and four seat units. The two seat units shown below are connected to a 90° outside corner.

An optional elevated table is placed at an angle on top of the corner pallet. This table is made from solid core plastic for durability.

METHOD...wrapping around the story

The most unique design detail of Method is the way the seats and benches wrap around the pallet. It is a most unusual approach to upholstery, yet it creates a clean, sculptured look.

Backless benches are offered in two styles - one that is wrapped on both sides of the pallet for sitting on each side, and a half wrapped bench that would be used against a wall or to direct one-side seating.

Oak pallets are constructed of recomposed oak that allows the grain to be consistent from pallet to pallet. This offers a cleaner look when units are connected. The oak is available in three different finishes.

METHOD...versatile arm placements

All armless seats may be specified with right end arms, left end arms, or center arms as needed. This allows for a true custom approach to arm placement and function for each unit.

Arms will be made into the frame and should be specified at time of order. The arms are constructed of formed steel and wrapped with foam for soft support.

METHOD...supporting work

Two tablet mounts are available with the Method Lounge Series. One tablet may be mounted on the end of the pallet. The other may be mounted beside a seat with an open area on the side.

Both tablets are made of solid core plastic in SP-Arctic White only, and swivels a full 360°. The support frame is aluminum and is offered in polished or five powdercoate finishes.

METHOD...each may stand alone

The beauty of the Method Series is that it allows you to specify up to a four module unit that offers great seating capacity in one pallet — less parts to order and less cost. Offered as a two, three, and four seat pallet, Method can support any type of seating required. Add armless seats, full or half wrapped benches, or leave open for a table top surface. You can place these in any type of sequence, including facing opposite directions. (See pages 1-2.)

bench unit: two - ME-2991-PA End Legs / Polished Aluminum, ME-2920-LAM Two Seat Pallet / LAM-Linen, two - ME-2963 One Side Bench Seats

METHOD...straight, curved, or continuous

There are only seventeen elements in the Method Lounge Series, but these simple elements allow you to create a plethora of configurations. Straight bench units that sit against a wall are achieved with one sided bench seats. The one sided bench seat allows you to direct the seating position as show in the units below.
