DAYBED

Like the stool and bench, the daybed is designed to create flexible seating options. Fully adaptable in its function, the solid brass backrest mechanism adjusts to three different positions allowing the daybed to be used as a bench or for lounging or general seating.

Constructed entirely of solid wood, the slim elegant frame holds leather seating cushions. The wood's richness of color and grain serves to punctuate the daybed's simple shape.

Each cushion is hand sewn from four separate panels of leather using an inverted or "invisible" seam. Padded with all natural down filling for softness and dense foam for sharpness, the seat profile is extremely light yet supremely comfortable. Separate headrest cushion is detachable.

BassamFellows hand selects the finest hides from the best tanneries in Europe. The leather used in the daybed is the same quality leather used to make luxury handbags. Unlike most leather used in furniture manufacturing, BassamFellows never "paints" or coats the leather to mask quality imperfections. Leather is tanned using all-natural vegetable processes. The result: more transparency and "life" in the leather, and longer lasting, natural beauty.
