Metavante Corporation provides integrated products and services that enable financial services organizations to initiate and process a broad range of financial transactions electronically and through the internet. With recent growth and technological advances, the company's command center needed improvements. ■ According to VP-Facilities Services Director Ed Wimer, Metavante selected KI for this venture based on a successful past relationship and the value of KI products. ■ The command center is always open and needs to accommodate assorted work groups over various shifts. "KI listened to our needs and adjusted the product accordingly," says Wimer. KI workstations accommodate distinct users and tasks. Flexible WorkSpace adjustable worksurfaces adapt to individual user needs and 700 Series pedestal files provide security for multiple users with individual locks. WireWorks panels configure easily and handle all required power and data cables. ■ In the observation room, Venue C tables and Vertebra seating impress customers viewing Metavante's operations. ■ "KI's attention to detail enabled a smooth transition into our new space," says Wimer.
