

Based on the Fibonacci numbers, Along These Lines comprises a system of vertical felt lanes suspended on a steel rail, creating beautiful wall coverings of any size that add soft volume to any space.

The 2mm thick felt is sourced from Germany's leading supplier, reinforcing Studio Lawrence's belief in using only the highest quality European materials and manufacturing. Available in nine colours, the lanes are cut in widths of the Fibonacci numbers and run parallel. The lanes can be layered up to create texture and the easy-to-manage hanging system means the lanes can be rearranged, creating a constantly changing composition.

Using a double-sided rail, Along These Lines can also become a soft partition wall to divide living spaces within the home, to separate workplaces or to enclose a meeting-room table. Along These Lines is a playful and dynamic piece, designed to improve both aesthetics and acoustics.
