

Refin

Tracce

The texture of the Tracce collection reflects the effect of passing time on material and enhances the value of history with a propensity for creative research. The surface of the material is reminiscent of decommissioned industrial spaces and pieces of historic architecture, creating interwoven and superimposed textures inspired by peeling walls, bare concrete and flaking plaster

