Pinch Pleat Draperies

Pinch Pleat drapes contain pin-on hooks that slide into carriers attached to drapery rods. Pinch pleats are the most popular and well known pleat.

- 4" permanent buckram finished heading, 4" bottom hems and 1 1/2" side hems. Bottoms and side hems are double turned and blind stitched with matching polyester thread.
- Headings will usually cover the face of the track.
- 3 finger French pleat style sewn with monofilament thread.
- Wand or cord draw.
- Order traverse rods separately.

Roll Pleat

Roll Pleat draperies contain a snap tape that snaps into carriers attached to drapery rods.

- 1" double fold heading with snap tape
- 4" bottom hems and 1-1/2" side hems
- Bottoms and side hems are double turned and blind stitched with matching polyester thread.
- Headings hang below the face of the track.
- Drapery hangs in flow of softly rippled folds
- Wand or cord draw.
- Order traverse rods separately.

Stack Pleat

Offers a more tailored look than roll pleat drapes with knife-edge pleats, stitched alternately - front and back to form accordion-like folds.
