

DECISION[™]

Decision[™] is designed by the design duo Pelikan Design. It is created with receptions, meetings and waiting areas in mind. Like ideas the Decision units can be combined to produce create results. The design is built around three basic units and a set of armrests that allows for countless combinations making chairs, circular or curved sofa solutions with different back heights and armrest possibilities.

With its many functions and possible combinations Decision represents the essence of Pelican Design's way of designing. It is functional minimalism. The furniture is simple, yet functional as it can be combined into the perfect seating area for any space. When creating a Decision furniture only the imagination sets the limit.

Pelikan Design partnered by Niels Gammelgaard, born in 1944 and Lars Mathiesen, born 1950. They are both architects specializing in industrial design. They favour functional and unpretentious idioms that are minimalist, yet expressive. Characteristic of Gammelgaard and Mathiesen is that they work very broadly in many different areas without losing sight of the issue. For Fritz Hansen they have designed the Decision™ and the Wing™ Screen Wall Series as well as the Plano™ Table Series.

DESCRIPTION

Easy chairs and sofas designed by Pelikan Design, manufactured by Fritz Hansen.

The upper part is a bearing tube construction moulded in foam and upholstered with fabric or leather. The seat has no-sag springs. The foam is fire retardant and has different level of hardness in the seat and back unit. The armrests consist of a metal frame moulded in foam and they can be used as end or insert arms. The triangular cushion in foam is fastened to the seat unit. The front legs are matt chromed steel with black ferrules of synthetic material. The rear legs are black synthetic material. The table has 1 leg in matt chromed steel with black leg ferrules. It is an integral part of the sofa between or at the end of the units or it is separate. The separate table has a plate foot of matt chromed steel.
