Blend was developed as a solution for changing needs. Recent advances in communication and technology, changes in the way people work and the reduction in the space in which they work has created a need for different furnishings. Companies are looking to maximize space by creating interactive working environments that enhance creativity, improve productivity, enable brainstorming, innovation and impromptu meetings. These environments are Dynamic Spaces where seamless connectivity between technology and furniture is essential. The Blend table program brings together the optimal selection of tables and accessories, as well as power integration technology. This enhances design and provides generous work surface space and storage that incorporates accessories to enable functionality for today's changing office.
