there's a logic to creativity

For us, inspiration often starts with research. One image or idea inspires – calling us to dig deeper, to keep questioning.

Based on spectrograph readings, Audio Spectra is made up of three patterns: Silence, the spanish word Hola and the Tic Toc of a metronome.

To think about materials in terms of their essences. How do form and function meet in premium rubber tile? And how can all of this be applied in a way that nobody has done before?

– natalie banaszak & tom polucci

SILENCE - 986 ORANGE SORBET
HOLA & TIC TOC - 987 BUFF

HOLA - 906 LAGUNA BLUE

The inspiration of Hola is based on the spectrograph word "Hello" in Spanish. Linear designs varying in size travel across Hola, creating a pulse on the canvas that evokes a sense of rhythm.

SILENCE - 988 KIWI
HOLA - 936 COOL BEIGE

Like a metronome, Tic Toc was created with consistent, uniform lines for an engaging, symmetrical visual.

tic toc

SILENCE - 990 DEEP PINK
TIC TOC - 921 TOFFEE

The solid, still compilation of Silence speaks volumes with its textured tile and vivid color palette.
