Arissa® Lounge Collection

Designed by Dan Cramer and Paul James, KI's Arissa Collection creates an entirely new category of furniture; one that is universal and serves the needs of every patient, family and staff member. Its design lends itself to comfort – both physical and psychological – regardless of body type. The end result is a collection that relies on a unique and carefully crafted geometry that supports up to 750 pounds, yet can accommodate a vast spectrum of users without appearing oversized or too delicate. The balance in form and scale are ideal for virtually any user, regardless of size.

With its clean, modern aesthetic, the Arissa Collection evokes a mid-century elegance that blends with a wide variety of architectural and interior plans. Beautiful wood accents add warmth to any environment. The collection includes a range of 11 standard wood finishes and offers the ability to custom match stain finishes.

The Arissa Collection is available as an armchair or armless chair and loveseat, with the option of wood armcaps. Coordinating ottomans are also available. The breadth of the collection allows users to create a consistent look throughout a facility's lobby and lounge areas, while being flexible enough to serve the needs of every individual.
