Space-maximizing cockpit design is ideal for flatscreen monitors and laptops.

For ergonomic comfort, adjust desk surface to allow proper leg and chair clearance.

Add matching storage within an arm's reach for convenience.

Inspiration strikes the modern workplace.

Worksurface dividers may be added or removed as needed, so you can work privately or as a team.

Genesis desking goes beyond the confines of what is considered traditional office furniture. Its adjustable nature provides ergonomics and added ingenuity in the workplace.

Genesis' electric adjustment option allows users to raise or lower the worksurface from 24" to 51" with the push of a button. Up to four preferred work heights may be programmed to each table. Adjustability options include fixed, pin height, crank and electric. The versatility enables users to easily adjust from sitting to standing heights throughout the day, increasing overall employee health and productivity.

The flexible system offers exceptional power and data management. Convenient overhead storage leaves work and personal items within reach. Functional surface shapes and modern finishes make Genesis the perfect complement to a variety of work areas – administrative, collaborative and private. Genesis may be specified as a stand-alone worksurface or may be combined with a variety of KI product solutions, depending upon user needs.

Privacy screens are available in several standard heights.

Genesis supports a range of work styles and environments. It easily accommodates individual, private work areas but also fully supports open environments that facilitate group work and collaboration.

For heads-down, individual work, Genesis offers discreet privacy panels that allow users to immerse themselves into their work without interruption. Genesis offers lower screen heights for collaborative environments that encourage interaction while also ensuring a level of personal privacy.

Genesis is available with lightweight privacy screens that require less space than traditional panels and eliminate "panel creep".
