Clerici combines the clean industrial aesthetic of Munich-based designer Konstantin Grcic with Mattiazzi's superlative craftsmanship in wood. This lounge group offers an armchair, a two-seat, and a three-seat bench. Slender and sparse, Grcic deconstructs the traditional form of a seat with a lovely interplay of wood planks and voids. High armrests extend around the back to create the essential frame, while the lack of a full back or sides lend an understated lightness to the design. A slight slope in the seat invites you to slip in a moment of rest. Ideal for welcoming and transitional areas, Clerici makes a striking statement.
